Good morning everyone,

Previously, we received informative directions and messaging to share with businesses. At this time, we need fresh messaging to share to prepare for this coming weekend.

The BIAs are seeking clear, direct information aimed at businesses so they may make informed decisions regarding operating hours and concerns for their staff this weekend.

Could you please provide updated messaging from the City on the risk, possibility of road closures, specificity of the road closures, and enforcement expectations.

A clear outline image of the red zone map and the permissions required to enter the zone (if any) so staff/deliveries can prepare, will help.

Direct messaging to business owners will be used as a basis to determine the best course of action to protect their businesses and employees.

- red zone map and required access for staff (?)
- transit
- escalated force anticipation
- street closures
- counter protests.

Thank you / Merci

Take care!!

Michelle
